Meeting Students' Nutritional Needs During a Pandemic

A Resource for School Superintendents

As more superintendents are making the difficult decision to close school due to COVID-19, a growing number of children are losing access to the school breakfasts and lunches that support their health and well-being. School administrators can mitigate the impact on families by serving meals through the Summer Nutrition Programs during unexpected school closures and working with community partners to ensure that the students' nutritional needs are being met.

Emerging Strategies and Tactics for Meal Service During School Closures Related to the Coronavirus

This document was last updated on 3/24/2020 and will continue to be updated.

For background information on program options for serving meals during school closures related to the coronavirus, including guidance related to nationwide waivers, see this FAQ.

Always communicate with and receive approval from your state agency prior to implementing non-congregate meal service or any new strategy in order to ensure compliance and reimbursement.

State agencies are likely to be very busy at this time. We encourage partners to offer to support their state agency, which will allow for a coordinated response and consistent messaging.

If you're feeding children and families affected by the coronavirus, we're here to help.

The coronavirus is closing schools and workplaces nationwide. Vulnerable children are losing the school meals they depend on, and low-income families are struggling with lost wages.
